Market Poultry Basics

What to look for and do the day birds arrive:

Check beaks - they are trimmed before shipping if too short they will have trouble eating

Legs and toes should be straight with no deformities

Birds should be alert and active

Be sure to bring water with you. Birds are shipped soon after they are born.

When you bring them home:

Add electrolytes to water. (can be found at any feed store)

Teach birds to drink by gently dipping their beaks in water source

Feeding the proper type of feed at the correct age is important:

Turkeys - starter mash

Chickens – broiler starter ration

Do not use stale, spoiled or moldy feed

Make sure birds have plenty of fresh feed and water at all times

Facilities for healthy growth:

Birds need to be kept warm and dry

Ventilation and sanitation are very important

Room to move and exercise must be available

Protection from weather, disease and predators is necessary

As they grow:

Facility area needs to grow with growing birds

Ventilation and sanitation should be top priorities

Some good bedding choices are: wood shavings, ground corn cobs or rice hulls and straw

Going to the fair:

Review project books to help you select birds for the fair

Review the Junior Fair Activities Guide for rules, dates, times and locations of all fair events

Make sure your birds are clean for the fair and throughout the fair

Exhibitors are responsible for feeding and watering their birds throughout the day each day of the fair.

Remember to have fun while you learn with your project!
